PT. TOYO BUSINESS ENGINEERING INDONESIA

Solution

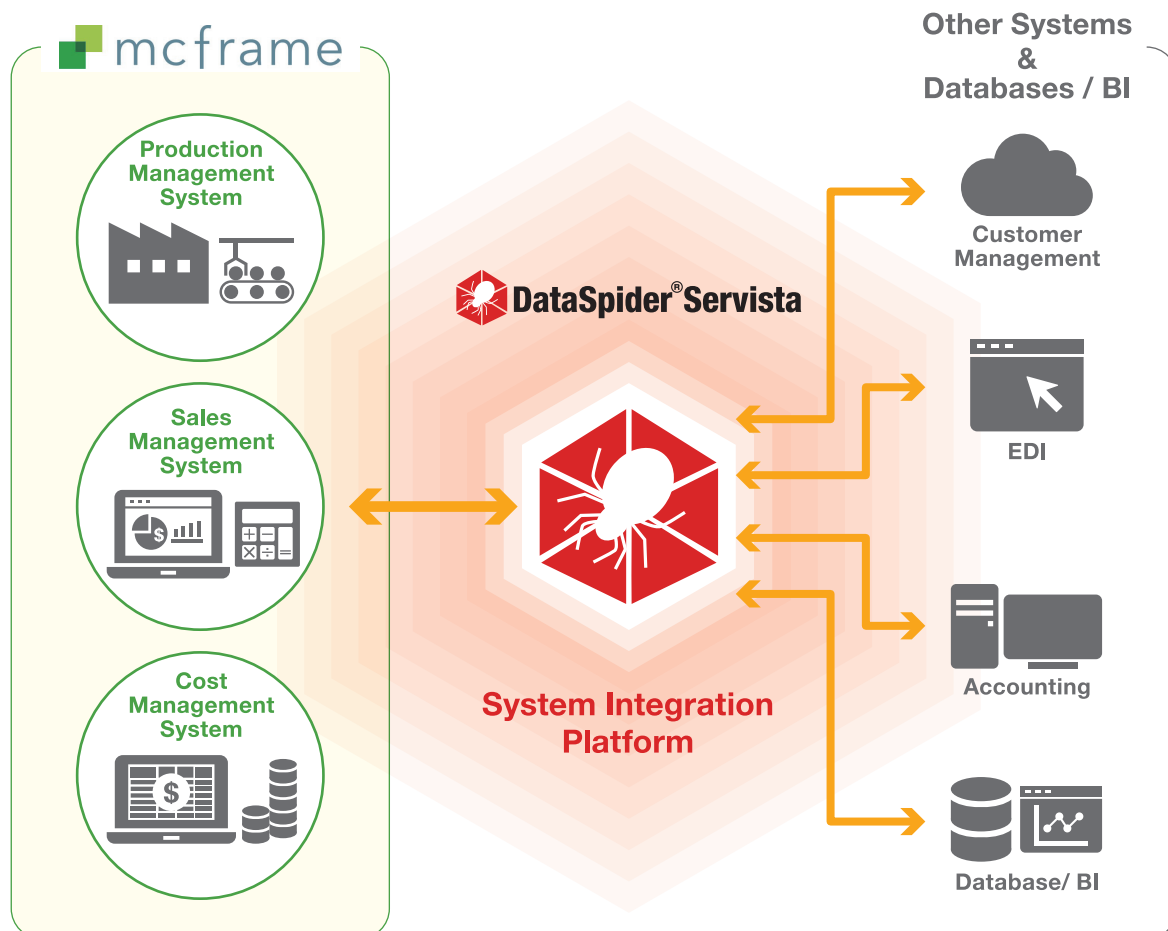

The production management system, mcframe, that can simply be linked with other systems, helps to support production efficiency through automation of operations

Solution overview

DataSpider simplifies data integration between the production management system “mcframe”, adopted by many companies in the manufacturing industry, and other systems. Operational efficiency can be experienced by automating operations.

- ◆ Non-programming solution for development of data integration platform between mcframe and other systems
- ◆ mcframe data and other business data are automatically extracted, merged, converted and stored into a database to support visualization and analysis of business results and issues using BI tools
